Differing Views on Referendum Questions To Be Resolved in September 18 Election

by Elaine Skolnik

A large percentage of Greenbelt's 3,414 registered voters is expected to vote on Tuesday, September 18, for the five city council members who will head the municipal government for the next two years. Referendum questions dealing with the Baltimore-Washington Parkway overpass and revenue bond financing are also on the ballot.

The four polling places—the Municipal Building (3rd Precinct), North End Elementary School (6th Precinct), Springhill Lake Community House (8th Precinct) and Greenbriar Community Center (13th Precinct)—will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

All five incumbents are seeking reelection—Thomas X. White, Gil Weidenfeld, Richard Pilski, Richard Castaldi and Charles Schwan. Also competing are Jeanette Gordy, Konrad Herling and Richard Ley.

Charter Amendment

Greenbelters will be asked to vote "Yes" or "No" in a binding referendum on a City Charter Amendment to set up the mechanism to float revenue bonds for low-cost financing for rehabilitation of existing structures within the city (residential or commercial). Voter approval would allow property owners to apply later for such financing. Any rehabilitation or energy conservation project for which such financing was contemplated would have to be approved individually by specific ordinance of council after public hearings and full debate.

According to the terms of the amendment, repayment of the bond obligation would be the responsibility entirely of the borrower. No obligation whatsoever would accrue to the city or its taxpayers. Possible candidates for rehabilitation or energy conservation projects are Greenbelt Homes Inc., the commercial center, Charlestowne Village and the center apartments.

This Charter Amendment referendum was placed on the ballot when 454 registered voters signed petitions requesting this action after the city council had unanimously approved the charter amendment on June 11. In the main, opponents of the amendment appeared to be those who fought the GHI rehabilitation program. Some expressed concern that developers and foreign investors would buy the bonds and somehow acquire the property in the unlikely event of a default. Others expressed opposition to the issuance of tax exempt bonds because of the loss of revenue to the U.S. treasury.

In approving the Charter Amendment, council pointed out that when property is permitted to deteriorate, it declines in value and its ability to help support city services is reduced. In such a case other taxpayers would have to bear a larger portion of the tax burden. Additionally it was noted that when one part of the city deteriorates, it affects adversely other parts of the city.

Council candidate Herling joins the incumbents in supporting the Charter Amendment. Gordy and Ley oppose it. (See how they stand on page 11).

Overpass

Voters will also be asked whether they favor an overpass to span the Baltimore-Washington Parkway and, if so, where—at the end of Gardenway to Phase I of the Greenbriar condominium or at the end of Hamilton Place to Phase II and III in Greenbriar.

Since late 1977, federal funds have been available for an overpass that would give safe passage to Roosevelt students and others who have been engaging in the dangerous, illegal practice of dashing across the heavily trafficked parkway. At the time Roosevelt opened its doors, city and school officials, parents, the National Park Service and Greenbelt Police addressed the problem but were not able to stop the shortcutting because of the woods on either side of the parkway.

In May 1978 after many meetings and public hearings, the majority of council—White, Weidenfeld and Schwan—voted for the Gardenway overpass after considering the factors of actual use, public safety, lower cost, topography and its being the most direct route to the high school. The Federal Highway Administration approved this location.

Opposed to Gardenway were Pilski and Castaldi, who supported the Mandan location because it was public land. They were against using .09945 of an acre of private land, most of which is an 8-foot path, in the median of the parking lot between 7716-7718-20 Hanover Parkway in Phase I. Generally speaking, Phase I residents opposed the Gardenway site; Phase II opposed the Mandan location. The Federal Highway Administration has disapproved the Mandan location for the overpass.

In February 1979, the city filed condemnation proceedings after Phase I owners refused to grant an easement for access to the Gardenway overpass. Subsequently, the issue was discussed at many council meetings and representatives of Phase I requested a referendum.

By placing the question on the ballot, council hopes that the overpass matter will be settled once and for all. If Gardenway is the choice of the electorate, Phase I owners,

MISS GREENBELT CATHY CLARK

by Linda Orenstein

Cathy Clark, daughter of proud parents William and Alice Clark of 109 Rosewood Drive, is the reigning Miss Greenbelt for 1979. Cathy, a 16-year-old junior at Eleanor Roosevelt High School (ERHS), was sponsored by the Little League, and entered the contest because she "thought it would be a good experience" and she was urged by the league to be its representative. She said she enjoyed meeting so many people. Cathy admitted she was surprised and excited when she was announced the choice for Miss Greenbelt.

Cathy participates in the ERHS student government and the CYO Teen Club. She enjoys gymnastics, swimming, biking and tennis as leisure activities. She is studying the appropriate course work to prepare for a secretarial career and plans to attend secretarial school or work for the government following her high school graduation.

Other winners were: first runner-up, Dawn Marie Kurburski; second runner-up, Mary Bistany; Miss Photogenic, Cindy Mayer; and Miss Congeniality, Cathy Swann.

Ralph Noble, Outstanding Citizen—"Just a Great Guy"

by Alan Amberg

On Friday, August 31, a capacity crowd watched as a flabbergasted Ralph Noble received the Greenbelt Outstanding Citizen Award of 1979. The crowd quickly divined the identity of the recipient from the announced list of his accomplishments that led up to the presentation of the award.

In utter disbelief, Noble accepted the honor and remarked, "I'll look it over to be sure it's right . . . It's a great honor . . . a great society." The irony of it all was that he wasn't even going to attend the ceremony. His wife persuaded him to go by saying that she wanted to hear a live band concert.

Indeed Ralph Noble's list of accomplishments is a long one. A Greenbelt resident for 26 years, he has been extremely active in the Mowatt Memorial United Methodist Church and has held almost every position there. Noble has also put in over twenty-five years of work with the Boy Scouts and was instrumental in the formation of Scout Packs 746 (Methodist Church) and 1746 (Catholic Church). He also was a member of the Greenbelt delegation to the Co-op Congress for six years.

Ralph Noble, 75 years young, was originally from Yukon, Indian Territory (today, the State of Oklahoma). His wife, Beatrice, came from Whitehorse, Oklahoma, a town in that area. The Nobles, who recently celebrated their fifty-third wedding anniversary, have two sons, Elton and Wilbur, and three grandchildren.

Noble and his wife, both formerly printers, are members of the International Typographical Union. He was secretary of his local in Manhattan, Kansas. They have owned and operated two newspapers, and, before coming to Washington, Noble was superintendent of the Army Printing Department at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He and his wife then came to work for the Government Printing Office in 1947.

They moved to Greenbelt in May, 1953, in the first group of non-veteran buyers after the Government sold the project to GHI. Since that time they have resided at 11-B Ridge Road.

Presently Ralph Noble is: Member of the Board of Trustees of the Methodist Church and acting secretary of that group, chairman of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee (For the past 10 years), editor of the church newsletter (for the past 10 years also), and, for the past eight years the Church's lay representative to the Baltimore Methodist Conference.

For two years, the Nobles have been on the Pre-conference Report and the Journal Committee, and have assisted the editor in these publications. He also is the treasurer of the Washington East Methodist District Council of Ministries and secretary of the District Board of Laity.

Noble was president of the Board of Trustees when the Methodists decided to build their present building. He taught Sunday School for twenty years and was superintendent of the church school for five years. Before Noble came to Greenbelt, he was active in the various churches where he lived.

Noble spent six years serving on the Greenbelt Consumer Services (GCS) Co-op Congress as part of the Greenbelt delegation. The delegation was supposed to bring the voice of the members to the GCS management. It was "an exercise in futility," as the recommendations of the delegation were ignored, and frustrated, Noble left the GCS Congress.

Ralph Noble started with the Boy Scouts in 1930, when he received Scouter's training in Liberal, Kansas. Now, he is assistant district commissioner, in charge of Greenbelt's six Scout troops. He has been cubmaster at times when no one else would be, and has always been the liaison between the Methodist Church and Pack 746. Surprisingly, Noble was not active in scouting directly when his own sons were in the Boy Scouts. He was, however, the liaison between that troop and its sponsor, the Methodist Men's Group of Leavenworth, Kansas, of which he was president.

Helping others has always been second nature to Ralph Noble. There are numerous stories about his stopping to help strangers in need and giving greatly of his time while still working. Greenbelt is fortunate to have such a man. In the words of the first recipient of the Outstanding Citizen Award, Al Cousin, "Just a great guy . . . none better!"

Community Participation

To the Editor:

The 25th Greenbelt Labor Day Festival is over. The Festival Committee will be holding an evaluation meeting at the Greenbelt Library Conference Room on Wednesday, Sept. 19, and your comments are invited. Please send them to Box 2, Greenbelt, 20770.

The Committee was especially pleased this year to welcome the numerous Greenbelt organizations who were participating for the first time in the carnival or in the parade. New booths this year were those of the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club, Greenbelt Homes, Inc., the American Field Service of Eleanor Roosevelt High School, Partidgeberry School and The Prince Georges Opera Society (with its many Greenbelt members).

Participating for the first time in the parade were the Greenbelt Nursery School, the Greenbelt Clergy, the City of Greenbelt with a float, the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club who joined the award-winning St. Hugh's Teen Club and the Greenbelt Marching Kazoo Band.

It is through the participation of our community organizations that the Festival is able to grow and change each year. The Festival operates on a comparatively small budget—earning just enough from booth commissions and a percentage of carnival ride tickets to be able to begin again next year. Moreover, we are in competition with many organizations who can pay for entertainment and offer prize money to those who participate in their parades. The Greenbelt Labor Day Festival pays entertainers small amounts, in some cases, for the most part, we offer exposure and publicity in exchange for a free performance. We give out trophies to parade winners. Unless the Festival were to change greatly—and become commercial—we could not begin to pay bands and marching groups large sums of money.

So, we are doubly grateful to all who support the Festival—to the many individuals who comprise the Committee and help organize the Festival each year, to those who participate on stage and those who give demonstrations to entertain or educate their fellow citizens, to those who sacrifice this holiday weekend for the pleasure of standing in the hot sun in an 8' x 8' booth for long hours, to those who are in the parade and to those who attend the parade and all the activities—we are grateful. Also, we thank those merchants and individuals who support us financially and with prizes—the Festival couldn't exist without them. "Unity through Community Involvement" is the theme of the Festival—and it suits this event very well.

Finally, the Committee acknowledges our gratitude to the city staff, the Public Works and Recreation Department, who join us in making the Festival possible, and the Greenbelt Police Department who keep so many areas working smoothly.

To the Greenbelt community—we thank you for coming. We hope to see you again next year. And we welcome your suggestions for 1980.

Sandra Barnes, President
 Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Committee

Missing Sign

To the Editor:

Last spring, several of the Greenbelt Nursery School's creative parents built the school's first sign, which was proudly erected on Hillside Road. The sign consisted of three parallel strips of natural wood, with "GREENBELT NURSERY SCHOOL" etched out in green letters. Incredibly, the "GREENBELT" panel was stolen during the summer. At present, the panel is irreplaceable, so we ask the help of Greenbelt citizens in regaining the missing sign. We are not interested in retribution, just the return of our sign.

Saving Our Children's Lives

In April 1978 this paper published an editorial favoring the Greenbriar Phase I-Gardenway overpass as the preferred route and the only viable solution to the life-and-death situation created when Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School students began routinely crossing the Baltimore-Washington Parkway as a short-cut to and from school. Before arriving at this editorial position, News Review staff members had no preconceived notions as to which of the two proposed routes was preferable. We were not familiar with the terrain on either side of the highway; the relative positions of the school, the highway crossing, and old Greenbelt landmarks; nor with the potential impact of pedestrian traffic on Greenbriar Phase I. For this reason, several of our staff members walked both routes on both sides of the Parkway — up to the point on either side where Greenbelt children made their wild scramble across the roadway.

Two consequences followed upon our inspection trip. As we stood at the pavement's edge, watching a constant stream of cars whizz by, we were persuaded of the urgent need for an alternative to a "short-cut" so lifethreatening to Greenbelt children. On the west side, chain-link fencing had been skillfully cut and rolled back to form a gateway. On the east side, lighter fencing had been crushed or lifted at various spots where youngsters had established their traffic patterns. We warned in our editorial then that the time would inevitably come when imitative elementary school children from Greenbriar might also be risking their lives by crossing the highway.

That time is now! When an otherwise well-behaved little girl admits to using the highway short cut "because everyone does it" her innocent imitation signals a danger out of control.

Our second conclusion was that only the Phase I-Gardenway route made sense. The Mandan Rd. alternative is too long and too distant from the two end points of the journey — the high school on the east and the Greenbelt Center facilities on the west — ever to function in place of the "short cut." The old short cut, with the broken fences and the wild dashes through oncoming traffic, would be in use in no time. But the Gardenway route — the shortest distance between the two points, shorter even than the illegal trails — would, on the other hand, most certainly be used because it is more convenient.

At the city election on Tuesday, September 18, Greenbelt voters will have opportunity to express themselves in an advisory referendum on the overpass question — whether or not an overpass should be built and which of the two sites is a preferable location. In the view of this newspaper, there is only one answer.

An overpass must be built — and as quickly as possible; and only the Phase I-Gardenway route is feasible for the only reason that is truly important — saving the lives of Greenbelt children.

In the Greenbelt Tradition

On September 18 voters will have the opportunity to boost rehabilitation and energy conservation efforts within our community by approving the city's revenue bond Charter Amendment. The amendment provides enabling legislation for low-cost financing of rehabilitation of existing structures through tax-exempt revenue bonds. The bonds would be backed by a pledge of revenues derived from the project undertaken, and not by the general revenues of the city.

Last March, Greenbelt Homes, Inc. requested a meeting with the city to explore the possibility of obtaining such revenue bonds. As a result, a Charter Amendment was drawn up, discussed at a public hearing, and then unanimously and enthusiastically approved by council in June. Opponents, however, petitioned the amendment to referendum. Now the voters must decide whether the city is to have this most useful tool. We are certain that citizens, like council, will enthusiastically endorse revenue bond financing.

The Charter Amendment, we would emphasize again, is merely the enabling legislation. Within specific guidelines, it would allow the city to float revenue bonds. Voter approval does not automatically commit the city to floating bonds — not for GHI, not for anyone.

The guidelines restrict revenue bond financing to specific projects deemed to be in the public interest, one at a time, in which the applicant must present a detailed plan to council for approval. The kind of work to be done must involve rehabilitation, energy conservation and/or elimination of code violations. The plan must also include a fixed dollar amount of bonds to be issued. An open-ended bond issue would not be permitted under the amendment; thus, there can be no "blank check" as some have suggested.

GHI may very likely be among the first to come to the city with a rehabilitation proposal — so, too, might the commercial center and the center apartments. Charlestowne Village is currently looking for the best financing available for energy conservation measures it plans to take. All sections of the city would be eligible for revenue bond financing.

GHI, for example, might come to the city with a proposal to finance through revenue bonds its member-approved capital improvement plan (expected to cost about $5 million dollars) — a necessary part of its $11 million rehabilitation project. The use of tax-exempt revenue bonds at 7 or 8 percent interest would cut almost by half the cost to GHI members of their capital improvement plan.

It should be noted, however, that while members of GHI would benefit directly by lower rehabilitation costs, the entire community would also benefit from the renovation and general improvement of the oldest homes in the community. In addition, the entire city would derive tangible benefit from the assurance that improvement in the value of GHI homes would enable GHI to continue paying its fair share of property taxes to the city's coffers.

We urge support for low-cost financing of rehabilitation through revenue bonds. It is in the Greenbelt tradition to support improvements in the quality of life in our community.

Our Reader's Views on the Issues

Flyer Filled With Misinformation

To the Editor:
The flyer received recently by GHI members which addresses aspects of the rehabilitation program is filled with misinformation.

In fact, the flyer deals with a number of items which cannot be responded to because we don't know what the author is talking about. The membership approved a program on August 29 which was spelled out to them in advance of the meeting. Absolutely nothing beyond the limits of what was approved has been or may be done.

It is desirable that the city have authority to issue revenue bonds to finance rehabilitation and energy conservation whether or not GHI ever qualifies for such assistance. Deterioration in any part of the city is a drain on all its parts, particularly those nearest to a deteriorated area.

Members who have questions about the rehabilitation program or the Capital Improvements Program should contact management or any board member.

Greenbelt Homes, Inc.

Review of Overpass Surveys

To the Editor:
In view of the impending advisory referendum on the issue of an overpass over the B-W Parkway, I feel it is necessary to reiterate the results of previous student surveys at Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High. The Overpass Site Selection Subcommittee has chosen the Gardenway overpass site for a number of reasons. The Subcommittee's surveys, conducted over a period of four months, have shown that almost 99 percent of the Greenbelt students attending Roosevelt are in favor of an overpass. They have, furthermore, shown that 87.3 percent of the Greenbelt students surveyed would use the overpass at the Gardenway site. Of these students, 61 percent replied that they would use it regularly. The results also show that if the walkway were built at Mandan Road only 11.2 percent of the Greenbelt students would use it either always or most of the time.

Obviously if it were built at this site the students would continue to use the hazardous Greenbelt Road bridge over the B-W Parkway or, even worse yet, continue to cross the Parkway itself. Indeed, approximately 40 percent of the students replied that they would continue to cross the Parkway, many in the vicinity of Gardenway.

Due to its comparatively low level of student usage, the Mandan Road site would be a waste of the taxpayers' money. Moreover, Gardenway's main attraction is that it provides a direct walkway for students of both Eleanor Roosevelt and Center School. Therefore, this subcommittee urges the voters of Greenbelt to take these statistics into account and vote for the Gardenway site in next Tuesday's election.

Steven A. Lloyd
Chairman, Overpass Site Selection Subcommittee of Eleanor Roosevelt PTSA and Student Advisory Committee (S.A.C.)

Vote for Amendment

To the Editor:
If we vote in favor of the charter amendment, any section of our community will be able to request that the city government support bonding for rehabilitation efforts. Such bonding will not be automatic. Each request will still require approval and support by the city government.

If we vote against the charter amendment, Greenbelt will be in

Bickering Gets Us Nowhere

To the Editor:
As one of many Greenbriar residents favoring the proposed Baltimore-Washington Pedestrian Overpass at the Gardenway site, I sometimes feel obliged to apologize for a few other residents who seem to place self-interest above community welfare and common sense. If you're undecided as to how you might use your vote September 18 for the referendum question or to various council candidacies, please consider these points on the overpass question:

1) Safety—which resident would want the death of a child on his conscience? The Gardenway route will surely prevent an accident, so let's build it. This also cuts down expenses for police patrols and physical barriers against kids who will surely go that route with or without a bridge.

2) Community Ties—Most Greenbriar residents will surely become closer to "old" Greenbelt. We know that together we'll have an even more active and viable community, we'll be able to get some exercise without a car, too!

3) The truth must be said that the overpass will not be the cause of massive crime, vandalism, and disturbances to our area. Making the Gardenway site a scapegoat for all imagined security concerns is not dealing with the problem properly.

4) All Greenbelters have the opportunity (and duty) to give input to the overpass design. Constructive advice on design and logistics just might make the bridge work for all of us.

5) Gardenway beats Mandan on both cost and usage. Let's (1) build an overpass and (2) put it at the Gardenway site. Self-serving bickering is getting us nowhere!

The Charter Amendment

To the Editor:
The circular on the charter amendment, so full of unsubstantiated allegations and inaccuracies and distributed throughout our community so close before the municipal elections, prompts me to pen a rare letter to my fellow citizens.

For all Greenbelters, the charter amendment referendum issue is simply this: Should we pass this enabling legislation, which will permit our elected city council, on a case by case basis, to consider proposals for the issuance of tax-free Greenbelt Municipal Bonds to fund improvements to private property—in each case, secured by the value of the private property and not by the general revenue authority of the city? Or should we cut ourselves off from this avenue of available, low-interest financing?

For GHI members, the issue is even clearer: To obtain the $5.2 M capital improvement portion of the rehab package (that is, the money needed above the $6.4 M we are getting at 3% from HUD), would you rather pay 7% interest on municipal bonds or 14% on a conventional loan?

In short, if you like the idea of low interest loans to provide needed capitalization for private property improvements, and if you trust our city council rationally to consider proposals for same, vote for this charter amendment.

the strange position of being able to provide bonds for industrial development while having gone on record as being opposed to low-interest bonds for preservation of our homes and businesses.

"To Build A Unified Community"

To the Editor:
The Eleanor Roosevelt PTSA (in a letter to the News Review August 30) gave Greenbelt voters five cogent reasons to support the Gardenway overpass. Many more could be given, not least of which is that residents of Greenbriar could enjoy walking access to activities in Greenbelt center. But an equally important reason for voters to endorse the walkways has to do with the spirit of neighborliness, and with our continuing effort to build a unified community. The longer we delay in removing the physical barriers between sections of our city, the greater violence we do to our historic traditions, and the more difficult it becomes to make progress on goals that require a community of interest and cooperation. A safe pedestrian bridge over the parkway is one essential step in the right direction. Let's hope that Greenbelters from every section of the city will cast their votes for the Gardenway overpass.

Willard Larkin

Support for Gardenway

To the Editor:
As parents of two children attending Eleanor Roosevelt Senior High School and two attending Greenbelt Center School we support the construction of an overpass over the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. In addition to providing safe access to the high school and the center of Greenbelt, an overpass will permit younger children attending Center School (children from both Greenbriar and old Greenbelt) to more easily visit back and forth with their classmates.

Furthermore, we support construction of the overpass at the Gardenway location. This site is preferable to any reasonable alternative because it most directly connects Greenbriar and the core of Greenbelt and it is most likely to be used by all Greenbelt residents.

We urge all Greenbelters to support the overpass and the Gardenway site on September 18.

"A Greenbelt Tradition"

To the Editor:
It's a Greenbelt tradition to provide safe pedestrian access for our students to walk to their schools. Yet Greenbelt students presently are walking to the high school along Greenbelt Road or cutting across the Baltimore-Washington Parkway. Both routes are dangerous.

Support the Greenbelt tradition by voting for the proposed overpass to cross the B-W Parkway at the Gardenway location, the shortest and safest route.

Terry and Cynthia Strock

Support for Overpass

To the Editor:
I think, as a student at Roosevelt, that the Gardenway overpass is vital to the needs of the community as a whole. The overpass will provide a safe access to Eleanor Roosevelt and will allow Greenbriar residents access to the rest of Greenbelt.

LEO'S FISH FRY

Leo Gerton will hold his annual fish fry on Sunday, September 16, at the Greenbelt Lake. Beginning at noon, the event will last until the fish are gone or it becomes dark. Candidates for city council have been asked to speak and answer questions. Gerton suggests that families attending the event bring a condiment or dessert.

Metrorail Runs Sundays

Metrorail began seven-days-a-week service on Sunday, September 2. Hours for the new Sunday service are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Fares will be 50 cents for trips of any distance, and parking at all Metro lots will be free.

Sunday schedules will feature trains every 10 minutes, with the last trains for the terminals meeting at Metro Center station at 6:02 p.m. so that passengers may transfer to the last outbound trains. Signs on the station kiosks will indicate the last trains in each direction from each station.

Biographies of Candidates for City Council

Richard Castaldi 11-V Ridge Rd.

Councilman Richard Castaldi, a native of Greenbelt, is the first member of City Council who was born and raised in the community. As a youngster, he was active in sports and participated in many of the competitive programs, representing Greenbelt in swimming, Little League baseball, and football.

Richard was elected to the City Council in 1973, served as Mayor Pro-Tem in 1975, and is currently a Councilman in his sixth year of service. He is 34 years old, a graduate of High Point High School, and attended the University of Maryland, majoring in Business Administration.

As a member of City Council, he served on the Council of Governments Human Resources Policy Board, Rape Task Force, and Transportation Planning Board. Richard was recently elected Chairman of the National Regional Transportation Planning Board for 1979-1980. The Board is responsible for transportation planning for the Washington metropolitan area under the Federal Highway Act of 1962. He was appointed to the Prince Georges County Citizens Advisory Committee for the Community Block Grant Fund, and also serves on the National League of Cities Human Resources Planning Board.

Castaldi is a member of the Greenbelt Jaycees, was elected in 1970 as Outstanding Young American by the National Jaycees, and served as State Director in 1978-1979. He was awarded a certificate by the commissioner of the Maryland State Department of Health after taking an advanced training program offered by American Public Housing Authority. He completed a management training course at Georgia Tech in 1972. Richard currently holds a State of Maryland Real Estate License.

Castaldi has been employed for 17 years at the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission, where he is Supervisor of the Zoning Information and Permits section of the Development Division. He served 4 years on the Board of Directors of the MNCPPC Credit Union, and is President of the MNCPPC Employees' Fund.

Richard is a second generation Greenbelter, and resides at 11-V Ridge Road. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Castaldi, residents of Greenbelt for over 40 years.

Jeanette Gordy 7700 Hanover Pkwy.

Jeanette Gordy is presently a member of the Advisory Planning Board of the City of Greenbelt. In the past, she served as Building Representative and as Secretary of the Board of Directors of Phase I of the Greenbriar Condominium Complex.

Over the past 14 years, Jeanette has worked to improve the quality of education in Prince Georges County and Maryland. She is a member of the NCATE Committee for the Evaluation of the School of Education at the University of Maryland, College Park, as well as the Early Childhood Committee at Bowie State College. In addition, she has been a delegate to the Maryland State Teachers Convention, the National Education Association Convention; has served as Treasurer of the Prince Georges County Education Association, Chairperson of the Nominations, Elections and Credentials Committee, and Chairperson of the PGCEA's Leadership Training Institute.

Jeanette received her Bachelor's degree from Winston-Salem Teachers College and her Master's degree from Bowie State College, in both cases with honors.

Jeanette does find some moments to relax. She and her husband, Frank, are avid sports fans and follow the local teams closely. Jeanette is also a Sunday School teacher at the Berwyn United Presbyterian Church.

Richard Ley 7718 Hanover Pkwy.

Richard Ley has lived in Maryland since 1970, except for a two-year overseas military assignment. He moved to Greenbelt in 1975. Currently, he works as a senior mathematician and computer programmer for the Department of Defense at Fort Meade, Maryland.

Ley presently is legislative liaison for the Greenbriar Phase I Board of Directors. Previously, he served on the steering committee organizing the Citizens for Greenbelt civic association. He is an active member of the Catholic Alumni Club Washington, serving as Vice President in 1976, and the following year as Cultural Chairman. He was a delegate to the Catholic Alumni Clubs International convention.

Ley is listed in the 1978 international edition of Men of Achievement and in the 1979-1980 edition of Community Leaders and Noteworthy Americans.

In 1971, Ley was commissioned an Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. During three years of active duty, he was stationed in Washington, D.C., and the Far East. A communications and information specialist, Ley worked as project leader for a personnel resources information retrieval system. In 1972 he transferred to the Naval Communication Station at San Miguel in the Philippines. He performed additional duties on airborne communications support missions with the Fleet Support Detachment based in Da-Nang. Ley was awarded the Navy Air Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, and Navy Unit Commendation.

Ley received several scholarships, including the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers Scholarship. He graduated with honors, receiving an AB degree in mathematics from the University of California at Berkeley, where he was selected for Phi Beta Kappa. Subsequently, as a National Science Foundation Fellow, Ley received an MS degree in mathematics from Stanford University.

In his leisure time, Ley enjoys photography, stamp collecting, bicycling, and piano. His entries in the Meade Camera Club contests have won several ribbons. An enthusiastic cyclist, he has bicycled the C&O canal and, during the Bicentennial, earned the Potomac Peddlers Touring Club's 200-mile award.

Ley is a member of St. Hugh's parish in Greenbelt.

Konrad Herling 5809 Cherrywood Terr.

Konrad Herling, born in New York in February of 1953, moved with his family to 13-M Ridge in December of that same year. The son of Albert and Frances Herling, he was educated in Greenbelt schools and at the then new Parkdale High School. Herling attended Towson State University from 1971 to 1976, majoring in History and Secondary Education. In the fall of 1975 he student-taught at High Point High School.

As a student at Towson State University, Konrad was reporter for the "Towerlight," the school newspaper, participated on the debate team, and served as Student Government Association Parliamentarian, Junior Class President and President of the Student Government Association. He was also a member of the Maryland Board of Visitors of State Colleges, the Academic Council, and was named in 1975 to Who's Who in American Colleges and University Students. As President of the SGA, a speakers series featuring Abba Eban and Carl Rowan was initiated. Also at that time, he worked closely with University and Baltimore County officials to make a dangerous street crossing safe.

Herling now resides in the Springhill Lake development. His work experience has included stints with the Greenbelt Public Works Dept. during the summers of 1970 and 1973. Since graduating from Towson, he has worked for Washington Homes, Inc., and at the Federal Communications Commission. Currently, Herling serves as a legal clerk at the FCC, in which capacity he received in June of this year an award for Sustained Superior Performance.

Richard R Pilski 106 Rosewood Dr.

Richard Pilski served four terms as Mayor with another four terms as councilman. He has been a resident of Greenbelt for 20 years. A native of Kingston, Pennsylvania, he lives in Boxwood Village with his wife, Claire, a Registered Nurse, and three children, Richard, Jr., Nancy, and Chris. He has been employed as tax representative and consultant for Prentice-Hall Inc. for the past 21 years.

He is also a member of the faculty, Prince Georges Community College.

Pilski attended King's College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, and holds a B.S. degree in Business Administration from Syracuse University. He is a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. He also served three years in the United States Navy.

Pilski is on the National League of Cities Transportation Committee. He has served 8 years on the Council of Governments' Board of Directors and the Energy Policy Committee. Previously, Pilski has represented Greenbelt on the Prince Georges County Tax Differential Committee, the Executive Committee of the Maryland Municipal League, and the Environmental and Public Safety Committee of the Council of Governments.

Locally, he has served on the Charter Review and Advisory Planning Board Committees of the city; board of directors of Greenbelt Credit Union, Manager of Minor Leagues; and President of the Lakewood Citizens Association.

Pilski is currently active in the Greenbelt American Legion and the V.F.W. He serves as a citizen counselor to the Prince Georges Boy Scouts and to the Greenbelt troops.

Charles F. Schwan, Jr. 20-T Hillside

First elected to council in 1971 and re-elected in 1973 and 1975, Charles Schwan's prior service to the city includes his having been chairman of the committee which recommended setting up the Advisory Planning Board (1959-60), member, Charter Review Committee (1966-67), and chairman, Indoor Swimming Pool Committee (1971). During his tenure on council, Schwan has been a member of the Land Use Policy Committee, Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments. He served as a member of the Greenbelt Bicentennial Committee and the Advisory Committee on Housing for the Elderly.

A member of the Greenbelt Homes, Inc., Board of Directors from 1963 to 1971, Schwan served as president from 1964 to 1970. His other community activities have included his being a member of the Steering Committee, Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt; co-chairman, Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee; and chairman, GHI Advisory Committee on Housing for the Elderly.

Schwan received an A.B. degree from Hiram College, and did graduate work in political science at Syracuse University. There he was variously a Graduate Teaching Assistant, Fellow, and Instructor in the Maxwell School. He served in World War II until discharged a captain in 1945. He was Washington Representative of the Council of State Governments from 1952 to 1962, when he became Director of the Council's Washington office.

At various times during these years he served as principal staff aide to the National Governor's Conference on intergovernmental aspects of roads and highway safety, corporation taxation, natural resources and environmental health. In 1968, he became a partner in Wendell and Schwan, Consultants on Governmental Affairs. The following year he joined with others to form Environments for Tomorrow, Inc., a consulting firm organized to assist public and private entities in meeting environmental requirements. In February 1973 Schwan retired from both firms.

Schwan is a former member of the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws and Ordinances; the Advisory Council on Police Training, International Association of Chiefs of Police; and Advisory Committee on Air Pollution Control Grants, U.S. Public Health Service.

Schwan participated in drafting the Water Resources Planning Act, and the Multistate Tax Compact. He is the author of articles and reports on federal-state relations, federal grant-in-aid requirements, multistate taxation, highway safety, and radiation protection.

Schwan has lived in Greenbelt for 26 years, first at 7A Crescent Road and, since May 1977, at 20T Hillside Road. A widower, he has three children. Charles lives in Lanham with his wife Betty and four children. Paul resides with his wife Connie at 7A Crescent Road. Peggy lives in Washington.

Gil Weidenfeld 123 Rosewood Dr.

A graduate engineer and an attorney, Gil Weidenfeld has served for eight years on the City Council. He served as mayor during 1975-1977 and is presently serving his second term as mayor pro-tem. Weidenfeld was recently elected as a vice-president of the Maryland Municipal League (MML) and is serving on the MML's Board of Directors for the third consecutive year. He has served on the League's Legislative Action Committee for the past five years. Weidenfeld is the past president of the Prince Georges Municipal Association (PGMA) and is serving on the PGMA Executive Committee for the fifth consecutive year. He was recognized by the PGMA as the "Outstanding Municipal Official of Prince Georges County" for 1976-1977. Weidenfeld also served on the Board of Directors of the Washington Metropolitan Council of Governments and presently serves on its Public Safety Policy Committee.

Weidenfeld is a Patent Examiner for the U.S. Patent Office and has earned numerous governmental awards for outstanding performance, special achievement and for work of outstanding quality.

In 1969, Weidenfeld earned a law degree, Doctor of Jurisprudence, from Catholic University in Washington, D.C., and in 1960 received a degree in engineering from Rutgers University in New Jersey. He is a member of the Maryland Bar and the United States Supreme Court Bar.

Weidenfeld, a fourteen year resident of Greenbelt, lived in Springhill Lake for eight years prior to moving to Boxwood Village in 1973. His wife, Muriel, has been active in numerous civic activities in Greenbelt. The Weidenfelds have two daughters, Sharon, 17, and Ellen, 15.

Thomas X. White 8 Woodland Way

Thomas X. White resides at 8 Woodland Way with his wife, Helen, and seven children. The Whites have lived in Greenbelt for the past twenty years.

White is a native Washingtonian. He was educated in the parochial school system there, graduating from Gonzaga College High School in 1953. After attending Georgetown University for one year, he enlisted in the U.S. Navy and served for five years as a Medical Corpsman.

Leaving active service in 1959, White enrolled at the University of Maryland, and moved with his family to Greenbelt at that time. In 1962 he earned a BS Degree in microbiology and has worked for the past 17 years in the field of medical diagnostic products. At the present time he is on the professional staff of the Medical Devices and Diagnostic Products Division of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association.

Tom has continued his affiliation with the U.S. Navy as an active Naval Reservist. He is completing his twenty-fifth year of naval reserve service, and is Training Officer for a U.S. Marine medical unit at Adelphi, Md.

Tom began his active community service in 1962 when he served with the Greenbelt Jaycees, the Citizens for a Planned Greenbelt, and various committees and elective offices in the GHI Cooperative. He served on the GHI Audit Committee for three years, the GHI Board of Directors for four years, and served as the Treasurer of GHI during 1973-74. He was also one of the founders of the Greenbelt Save Our Community Committee (SOCC). SOCC was instrumental in preventing the location of a planned three-school complex on Parcel 1 and 2 west of the B-W Parkway, and led the opposition to the use of a package temporary sewage treatment plant to serve new residential properties in Greenbelt.

Tom was first elected to City Council in 1973 and has served three terms. While on Council he has been active in county, regional, state, and national committees dealing with municipal affairs. These include: chairman, Governmental Operations Committee, Prince Georges Citizens Concerned for a Cleaner County; alternate member, Legislative Action Committee, Maryland Municipal League; member, Water Resources Planning Board, Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments (MWWOG); member, Air Quality Steering Committee, MWWOG; alternate member, Natural Resources Policy Committee, National League of Cities.

White is a member of Greenbelt American Legion Post #136 and he and his family are members of the St. Hugh's Church.

Recreation Review

Fall Class Registration

Mark your calendar now and register for the Rec. Dept. Fall Classes. A complete list of class offerings is in this issue of the News Review. Registration will be held on a first-come, first-served basis on Mon., Sept. 17, 7-8:30 p.m. at the SHL Rec. Center; Tues., Sept. 18, 7-8:30 p.m. and Wed., Sept. 19, 3-5 p.m. at the Youth Center. Additional information may be obtained by calling 474-6878.

Volleyball - Competitive and Recreational

Co-recreational volleyball, competitive and recreational, is played at the Center School Gym. Competitive games are played on Mon., Tues., and Wed. evenings. Both are from 8:30 p.m.-10:30 p.m. Everyone, age 16 years and over, is welcome.

Women's Flag Football

Action begins this Sun., on Braden Field at 9:30 a.m. and will continue until 12 noon, in the Women's Flag Football. It is tough and exciting. Spectators are urged to come down and cheer their favorite team on to victory.

Calling All '79 Swimming Lesson Participants

People who passed the swimming tests may pick up Red Cross cards at the Youth Center Mon. through Fri., 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

Weight-Lifters at Library

Members of Crushers Unlimited, an internationally known weight lifters group, will be at the Greenbelt Library on Wednesday, Sept. 19 at 7:30 p.m. The program is being presented by the Young Adults Department. For more information call the library at 345-5800.

it is hoped, would reach an accommodation with the city so that condemnation would no longer be necessary. If Mandan Road were the choice, the city would endeavor to persuade the Federal Highway Administration to alter its position on that site.

Although an advisory question on the overpass is not binding, it appears that present council members and Herling will go along with the wishes of the electorate. Gordy and Ley, Phase I owners, say they are unable to comment because of their involvement in the condemnation suit. (See How They Stand on page 10.)

Election Procedures

All council members are elected at large. In order for a candidate to be elected, he must receive 40% of the votes cast. If fewer than five candidates receive such a vote, a run-off election will be held one week later on Tuesday, September 25.

In a run-off election, the ballot will consist of those unsuccessful candidates receiving the highest number of votes, up to twice as many names as there are positions to be filled. Candidates polling the greatest number of votes are declared winners in the run-off election, regardless of the percentage of votes received.

The 40% requirement for election was introduced in 1967. Earlier a majority vote was required, frequently resulting in run-off elections. Since 1967 no run-offs have taken place.

Each voter is entitled to vote for five candidates. Voting for fewer than five increases the possibility of a run-off election.

Absentee ballots may be obtained

1979-80 School Calendar

Days school will be closed:

Oct. 18-19 - MST Convention
Nov. 1 - Professional day for teachers
7 - 1/2 day
22-23 - Thanksgiving holiday
Dec. 24-Jan. 4 - Winter holiday
Jan. 25 - Professional day for teachers
Feb. 18 - Washington's birthday observance
March 31 - April 7 - Spring holiday
May 13 - Primary election day
26 - Memorial day
June 17 - 1/2 day - last day of school until noon on Monday, September 17. They must be returned before 6 p.m. on Tuesday, September 18.

Registration Count

Some 3,414 Greenbelters are currently on the voter registration rolls, up 28.3% from 1977. Casting votes in 1977 were 1,558 Greenbelters, 59% of the registered voters, with the highest percentages at North End (65%) and Center (59%). This year Center has 1,234 voters; North End precinct 1,145, Springhill Lake precinct 485 and the new Greenbriar precinct 549.

If all five council members are elected on September 18, there will be an organizational meeting on Monday, September 24 at 7:30 p.m. (This meeting is set by charter.)

Upon being sworn in, the newly elected council members will choose the mayor. Although the charter is silent on this point, past councils have traditionally chosen the top vote-gatherer.

Greenbelt in Five to Ten Years

Problems and Opportunities

Charles F. Schwan, Jr.

Candidate for Reelection To Council

(This is the third of three communications to express my thoughts on issues of concern to Greenbelt. Anyone who would like to comment on or discuss these issues is urged to call me.)

Continuing controversy over a B-W Parkway overpass location should not obscure the fact that it is a vitally important safety measure for students, with the added benefit that it would link two segments of the city. A Parkway overpass would also serve as a precedent for similar links to join other sections of the community.

Metro will reach Greenbelt in 1990 and it is not too soon to start the planning process for that occasion. Greenbelt Road and Cherrywood Lane could not possibly handle the additional traffic generated by Metro. Adequate access from the Beltway will have to be provided for those outside the city as well as for those within the city. The Parkway overpass could well serve as the opening wedge to pry from the state an intracity connection over Kenilworth Avenue and the Beltway.

Worthy of consideration, too, is intracity bus service, with participation in paying operating costs by merchants who would benefit from the service.

The number of older persons in our society continues to grow. It is not too soon to start the planning process for a second Green Ridge House, which may take ten more years to achieve.

At the other end of the age range, the number of single parent families is obviously growing. The need for day care facilities for these children to enable parents to work will grow accordingly and should be reexamined.

Not acted upon this year was a suggestion that the service of Greenbelt CARES include counseling the single adult, particularly the elderly. This merits our consideration.

The low incidence of crime and juvenile delinquency in Greenbelt was not achieved by accident. It has been accomplished in major part by the broad range of sports and other recreational opportunities, by activities of Greenbelt CARES, and by the efforts of the Police Department. At present the Police Department's space and facilities are adequate, but within the next decade it will unquestionably need larger quarters.

Much has been accomplished in building athletic fields at the old landfill. With some expansion at that site and rejuvenation of Braden Field, we should satisfy our future needs for facilities of this type.

Segments of a hiker/biker trail have been completed. As time goes on, these should be added to.

The Master Plan provides for single family homes in the northeast corner of the city, on Parcel 1. Through it runs a stream valley which, by law, cannot be developed. Under mandatory dedication the city should acquire this land to augment other city land in the vicinity. Acquisition of some additional acreage should make it possible to develop a recreation area attractive enough to relieve pressure on the Lake Park.

Predictions about the future are risky, but it does not require a crystal ball to foresee that the few things I have mentioned will be among the critical issues facing our community in the coming years.

Tenant Assoc. Organized At Green Ridge House

The residents of Green Ridge House have organized a tenants' association. The board consists of a representative from each floor of each wing of apartments. Officers are James Cassels, president; Fredda Gryska, secretary; and Helen M. Zoellner, treasurer. City Manager James K. Giese met recently with Mrs. Gryska and Mrs. Zoellner to discuss traffic and parking problems of Green Ridge House residents.

A RECORD OF SERVICE TO GREENBELT

By authority Bernina L. McGee, Treasurer

Candidates Submit to Questions, State Positions Declare Intentions, Express Desires, Woo Voters

At Jaycees Night

by James O'Sullivan

The Jaycee sponsored candidates' night held at St. Hugh's Grenoble Hall on September 4 saw some 50 Greenbelt voters turn out to hear seven of the eight candidates in the upcoming city election air their views. The positions taken by the candidates on the two chief issues in this year's elections — the parkway overpass and revenue bond charter amendment — presented no surprises.

Parkway Overpass

Incumbent councilmen Gil Weidenfeld, Charles Schwan, and Thomas White, all expressed strong support for an overpass at the Gardenway location. Mayor Richard Pilski and councilman Richard Castaldi favored an overpass at the Mandan Road site. This split in site preference follows the voting record of the incumbents on this issue.

During his opening statement, candidate Richard Ley made no comment on the overpass question. Later, in response to a direct inquiry from the audience as to his position on the overpass, Ley stated that he had been advised by his attorney not to make any public statement on the overpass question since, as a property owner in Greenbriar Phase I, he is a respondent in the city's condemnation action.

Jeanette Gordy was unable to attend the meeting because of another commitment, but Ley indicated that they are running together as a team and hold the same views. According to Ley, Gordy is also a property owner in Phase I of Greenbriar and has also been advised by her attorney not to make a public statement on the overpass issue.

The final challenger, Konrad Herling, favors an overpass at the Gardenway location, citing safety and the strengthening of community ties as his reasons.

Revenue Bond Amendment

The candidates also stated their positions on the second major issue in the campaign — whether the city should be granted the authority to issue revenue bonds for rehabilitation and energy conservation. All five members of the current council took an affirmative position on this referendum question. They were joined by Herling, who indicated he would vote yes on this issue. Ley said he opposed the bond referendum.

Platform Speeches

The ground rules for the candidates night were announced by moderator Bob Phillips. Each candidate was permitted a five minute opening statement, speaking in the order of their appearance on the ballot.

Zeroing in on the two key issues in the election, Schwan said he favors the bond referendum because it is for a worthwhile public purpose and because rehabilitation would be less expensive than new construction. Schwan said that the overpass is extremely important for Greenbelt, since it would save lives and promote community unity. He prefers the Gardenway location because it is the most direct route, noting that with the Mandan Road location, students might continue taking a shortcut across the highway.

Weidenfeld focused on his background as a lawyer and engineer and on his record of service in his opening speech. Weidenfeld has represented the city's concerns at the county, state and federal levels of government. He supported tax differential legislation and played an active role in getting an $80,000 yearly rebate for Greenbelt. Weidenfeld is presently serving as the vice president of the Maryland Municipal League and has served on the Board of Directors of Washington Metropolitan Area Council of Governments.

Citing several recent News Review headlines, Ley charged that the present council has been caught off guard and taken by surprise at recent actions taken by the State Highway Administration. Ley said that SHA thinks of the city as an on/off ramp in its highway system. He asserted that greenspace should be preserved and that growth should be balanced.

Herling spoke in favor of an intra-city bus system to provide access to all sections of the city. He cited a need for a safer access onto Kenilworth Avenue from Springhill Lake and a better entrance onto Edmonston Road from Greenbelt Road. Herling would like to see the former theatre in Greenbelt Center used as a community operated cultural center. He would also like to have the city take a leadership role in exploring the use of solar energy in residential and commercial buildings.

White called attention to his record of community service as a member of the Board of Directors of Greenbelt Homes, Inc., and as a founding member and president of the Greenbelt Save Our Community Committee. White referred to his six year tenure on a council that saw the construction of the Springhill Lake Recreation Center, the construction of Green Ridge House, acquisition of land in Parcels 1 and 2, and new ballfields. White favors additional land acquisition, a shuttle bus system, and the retention of the Post Office in the Greenbelt Commercial Center.

Pilski said that a civic and public service background is important to a councilman if he is to understand and know the community. Pilski has a record of more than 20 years of community service to Greenbelt, including eight years as a councilman and eight years as mayor. He has served on the Prince Georges Tax Differential Committee and the Executive Committee of the Maryland Municipal League. He has also served on numerous committees of the Washington Metropolitan Council of Governments and was on the Board of Directors of COG for eight years. Pilski said he seeks to continue fiscal responsibility and supports completion of the Metro-Greenbelt line.

Castaldi noted that he has served on the council for the past six years and is the first native Greenbelt to be elected to the council. Castaldi has 17 years of zoning experience with the Maryland Park and Planning Commission. He is currently serving as chairman of the Transportation Planning Board COG. Castaldi said it is important that the Greenbelt Shopping Center be revitalized and that Greenbelt watch closely the State Highway Administration's plans to redesign the area roads.

At Green Ridge House

by Barbara Likowski

Candidates night at Green Ridge House, Friday, September 7 was not an ordinary political meeting. There was a close feeling, a folksy quality, that warmed the candidates. The more than 50 people present seemed almost like members of an extended family, a Greenbelt family.

Charter Amendment

What controversy there was appeared at the very end when chairman Jim Cassels asked the candidates to state their positions on the referendum questions. There was a clear division on the bond issue; the five incumbent members of council and Konrad Herling favor adding a section to the city charter to allow revenue bond financing for the rehabilitation of existing structures within the city. Jeanette Gordy and Richard Ley are opposed.

Gordy said she favors improving the city but has a problem with giving council the "carte blanche" right to do it. She felt that citizens should look at each issue and judge for themselves. "Blank checks," she said, "have gotten cities into trouble," citing New York and Cleveland. Supporting Gordy, Ley asked citizens not to surrender their power to approve or disapprove issues, saying it was a dangerous power to give council. "Let's put them on the ballot one at a time," he said. A vote against the referendum, he declared, is not a vote against rehabilitation but a vote to keep authority with the citizens, where it belongs.

"A red herring" is what Councilman Charles Schwan called the reference to New York and Cleveland, pointing out that those cities had had general obligation bonds, for which the cities were directly responsible. A different situation exists here, he explained. The city of Greenbelt would not be selling bonds and would not be responsible for them.

Councilman Thomas White urged citizens to vote for the charter amendment.

He assured those present that council would carefully scrutinize every applicant. Each proposal would be introduced for first reading and no action would be taken. "I would pledge a public hearing," he said, again providing for citizen input. Then there would be a second reading.

Councilman Gil Weidenfeld noted that council had always been responsible for making important decisions, such as building the Springhill Lake Recreation Center and the Senior Citizen House. Council raises and lowers taxes, provides new services, and so forth. If there had to be a citywide vote on every new issue, he concluded, it would be very costly.

By lending its good name the city helps groups such as GHI, the commercial center, the center apartments, etc., to obtain a low interest rate on their bonds, he said. This can prevent blight from coming to sections of the city—a blight which eventually affects all, he noted, adding that the city is not liable; the property itself is held as security.

Overpass

Ley reported that he and Gordy had been advised by legal counsel not to comment publicly on the overpass issue. (They are part of the Greenbriar Phase I condominium, which is in litigation over the city's condemnation proceedings for the overpass.)

The other candidates all favor an overpass over the Baltimore-Washington Parkway, with Schwan, Weidenfeld, White and Herling preferring the Gardenway route.

Schwan favors Gardenway because it is closer, shorter and, most important, safer. However, he pledged that if the electorate chooses the Mandan site, he would work to persuade the Federal Highway Administration to change its mind and build it there.

Weidenfeld pointed out that there is no safe way at present for the children to walk to school. Authorities won't improve Greenbelt Rd. for walking, so the students are using the illegal way, crossing the Parkway. The Gardenway route, he pointed out, is even shorter than the one they're using now. It would go through the middle of a parking lot. He feared that if the overpass is built at Mandan Rd., "the kids might still cut across." Saving lives, he agreed with Schwan, is most important.

White also agreed that Gardenway was the shortest, most direct, safest and least costly route. In addition, he noted, residents of Green Ridge House could use it to attend programs at Roosevelt.

Mayor Richard Pilski opted for the Mandan Rd. site. It bothered him, he said, that private property is involved. He told of meeting a citizen while looking over the Gardenway site and asking her opinion. The citizen, who turned out to be mute, wrote for him, "please protect my privacy."

Councilman Richard Castaldi favored Mandan because he felt it is the safest route and could be built the quickest. In addition, he pointed out, it is on the Master Plan, near the center of the community, and would avoid the necessity for condemnation. He would, however, be bound by the decision of council and likened his position to a time when he was a boy and had wanted a German Shepherd but had received another dog. "I didn't get the German Shepherd, but I loved the dog."

Senior Citizens

Questions were asked concerning problems of the elderly; the first, from Carl Rose, asked Schwan what services he proposed for the elderly. Schwan pointed out that elderly citizens now have special tax benefits, reduced garbage collection fees, etc. He mentioned that council had been considering a counselor from Greenbelt CARES for the elderly. He suggested that council might also look at an intra-city bus system; the problem with that, he added, is not the initial capital investment so much as it is with the heavy operating expenses. Pilski also stressed this as one of his three priorities for the elderly, the others are food and recreation services. Herling, who had included this in his platform, maintained that he would like to see easy access to the three separate sectors of the city. Castaldi remarked that senior citizens had free use of the swimming pool and assistance with their garden center. He also mentioned a plan of Rep. Casula's for busing for the elderly.

Schwan told residents he would be happy to listen to any suggestions as to how the city could be of service to its senior citizens. He and the others invited senior citizens to attend council meetings regularly.

Jose Morales, chairman of the senior citizens housing committee, asked if there could be a city advisory board for the elderly. Schwan thought this a good idea and hoped that the next council would pursue it. In the 1960 census, he said, there were only 205 citizens over the age of 65. Now there are many more in all sectors of the city. White said that council had considered a committee and suggested that there might be elderly representatives from Green Ridge House, GHI, the Golden Age Club, and elderly residents at large. Morales interjected the hope that not only elderly citizens but everybody in the community who has concerns about the elderly would be on the committee.

Other Questions

Problems of parking, police protection and structural and maintenance problems were brought to the attention of the candidates.

Pilski suggested using a sticker system for cars, similar to the one used at the Lake Park, with special places reserved for the handicapped and for visitors.

Tenants were assured that city police constantly patrol all parts of the city. Grading of the hill between the House and the shopping center was a problem that was already being tackled. Candidates suggested that proper channels be used for all problems, including maintenance, with tenants first going to management, tenants associations and finally, if unresolved, to council.

Uniforms Needed

Greenbelt Revisited

by Linda Orenstein

Recently, Edith Lyles, a former Greenbelter, relocated in the area. Approximately the 46th family to move into Greenbelt in 1938, she lived at 11-K Ridge Road for 15 years. Her daughter, Barbara Lyles, and daughter-in-law Donna Nyhoff Lyles (formerly of 7-D Hillside, 1937-1953) now both California residents, were visiting when News Review editor Mary Lou Williamson met them walking about the city.

Both women reminisced about Greenbelt and commented on their perspective of the city today. They recalled the look of uniformity that the houses had and that the residents had to abide by the rules. Hedges had to be maintained between two and three feet in height and the lawns had to be clipped. If an inspector noted that someone did not comply, the resident received a notice in the mail. If the job still was not done, it was done for the resident, who was billed for the service. Clothes could not be hung out on the lines on Sundays, and rent was paid according to income.

The visitors were pleased by the new entrance on Southway, the stone wall, the explanatory map, islands of trees and flowers, and the widening of Southway itself. They liked the fact that the lake has remained unchanged but expressed surprise that they could not approach Indian Springs (now a part of the Golden Triangle) from the Lake Park because of the intervention of the Beltway.

Barbara and Donna Nyhoff Lyles talked about the years when a Greenbelt Home could not be obtained unless the family was the proper size for the unit. Barbara Lyles remembered hiding her younger brother, since their family was one-too-large for their accommodation, and Donna Lyles recalled having to move to an apartment when her family decreased in size. They related their excitement when they attended the first movie shown in the Greenbelt Theater, "Baby Takes a Bow," featuring George Murphy and Shirley Temple. Everyone was given free ice cream following the show. A furniture store occupied the space where Greenbelt Variety now stands, and a bill itemizing the furniture purchases of Edith Lyles reflects the rise in prices over the years. The total cost of $113 was paid in installments of $2 per month and the pieces included: 2 twin beds; 1 night table; 1 bedroom chair; 1 dresser; 1 chest of drawers; and 1 set of mattress and springs.

During the war years, the two women worked at the soda fountain in the corner drugstore (now High's) and recalled their habit of mixing outrageous concoctions during the blackouts and daring their friends to drink them. They babysat for people in almost every court in town, and getting home presented no problem since everything was located so close together. Babysitters earned 10c per hour and 25c after midnight. Barbara Lyles remembered that one family on the block had a television set and that one day a week all of the children were invited to watch a scary show.

The women were generally pleased by what they saw, but were somewhat disappointed that private ownership of GHI houses had allowed some deterioration of individual units that would not have occurred, they felt under government ownership.

The Advisory Question on Overpass Across Parkway

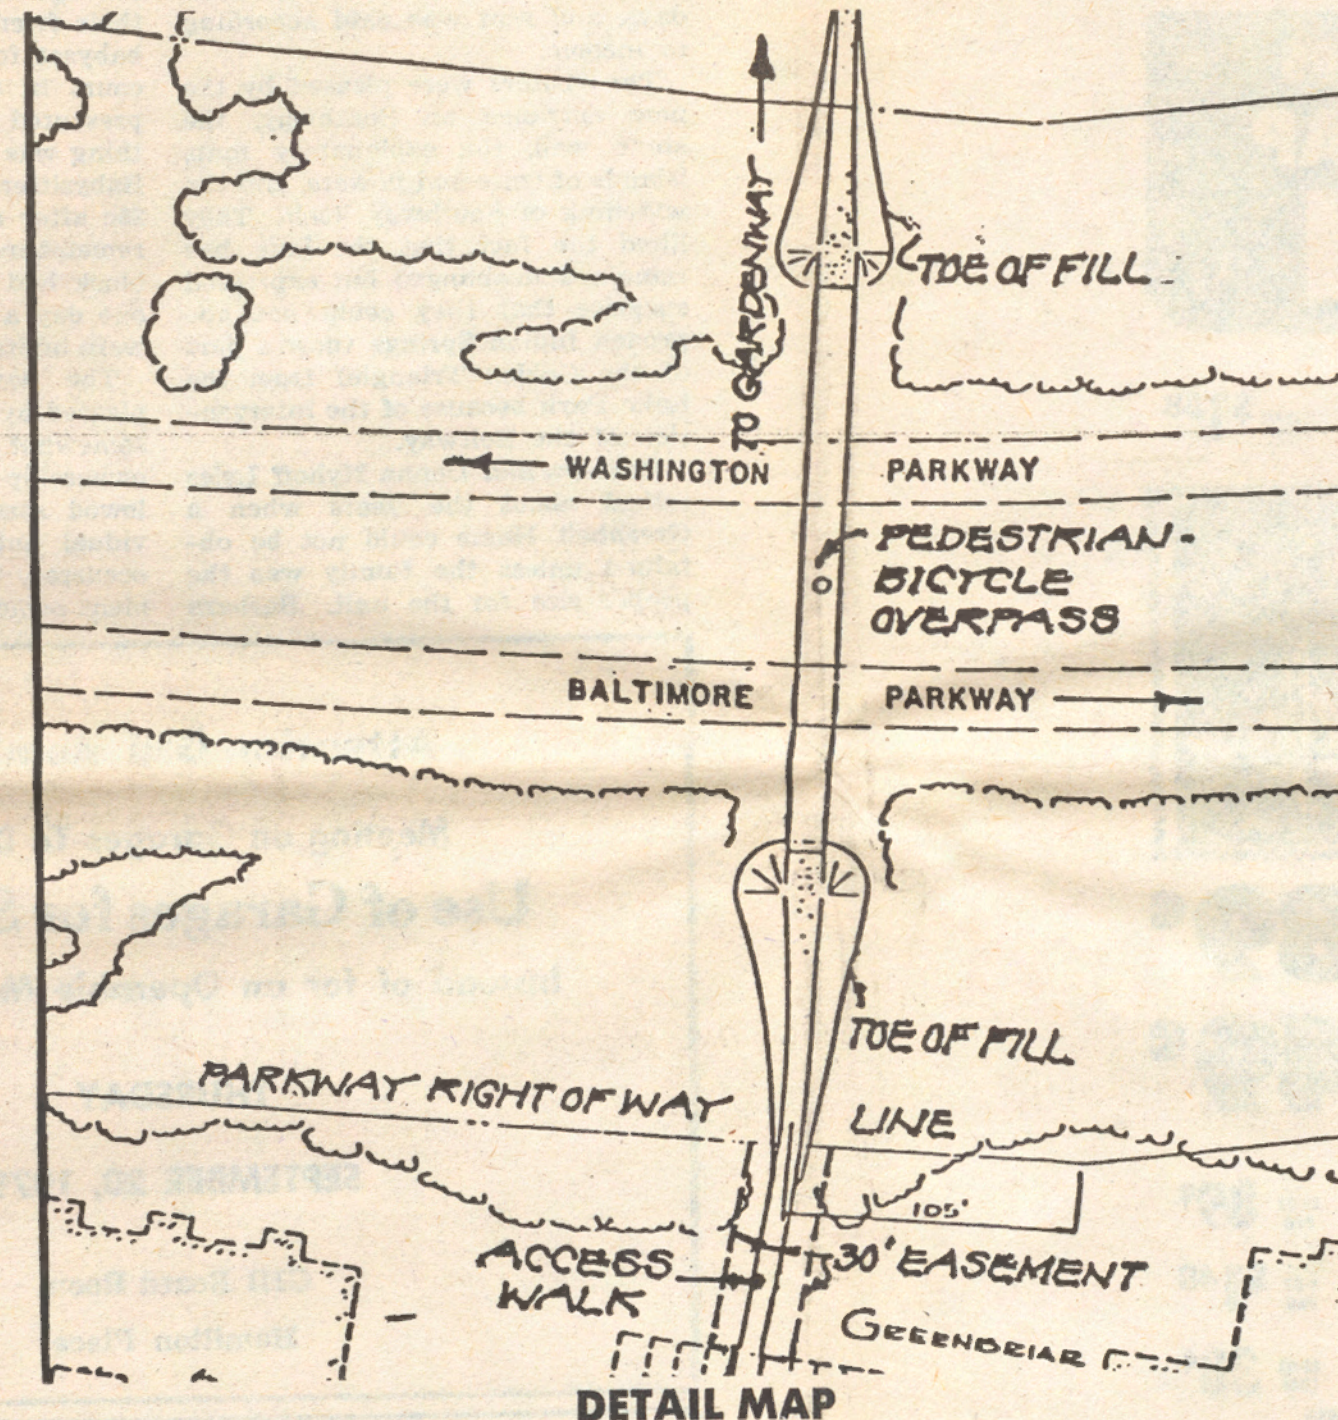

SUMMARY INFORMATION ON OVERPASS

- Voters will give their advice on two questions:
Whether or not to have an overpass?
Which of two sites should be used for the overpass
- The Federal Highway Administration has agreed to construct with Federal funds a pedestrian-bicycle overpass across the Parkway.
- An overpass would enable persons west of the Parkway to walk or bike to Eleanor Roosevelt High School, Goddard Space Flight Center and other points to the east, and persons east of the Parkway to get to schools, parks, playgrounds and other public facilities west of the Parkway.
- The City must provide access walks to the overpass.
- The Council selected a location near the end of Gardenway (Alternative A on the ballot) as the preferred location.

- The Gardenway location requires the obtaining of an easement across a privately owned parking lot and buffer strip in Greenbriar Phase I.
- Greenbriar Phase I would not approve an easement.
- After a well attended public hearing at which many people spoke in favor and in opposition, Council authorized obtaining the easement by condemnation.
- Another location (Alternative B on the ballot) near the end of Mandan Road and Hamilton Place would not require condemning an easement.
- The Alternative B location would require a more expensive bridge and for most persons would increase the distance between points on the opposite side of the bridge.
- The Federal Highway Administration has approved the Alternative A (Gardenway) location and has not approved the Alternative B (Mandan Road) location.

This map shows the two alternative locations for the pedestrian-bicycle overpass and access routes to the Greenbelt Commercial Center and the Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Showing location of access easement required to be obtained through Greenbriar Condominiums Phase I property and the location of the overpass, if the overpass is built at the Alternative A, Gardenway location.

Legislative Findings and Legislative Purpose of the City Council

The following legislative findings and the legislative purpose for the Charter Amendment were declared by the City Council in adopting the Charter Amendment:

- FINDINGS:
1. The existing stock of housing in the City of Greenbelt, Maryland (the "City") is a valuable asset that must be maintained and where necessary, rehabilitated in order to provide decent, safe and sanitary housing for the present and future residents of the City.

2. Rehabilitation of residential structures to reduce the use of heating oil, natural gas, coal and other vital natural resources, is in the best interest of the City and the country.

3. The existing stock of non-residential structures in the City is likewise a valuable asset which should not be allowed to deteriorate or sit vacant. Rehabilitation of non-residential structures increases the tax base of the City, provides temporary and permanent employment and improves the economy of the City as a whole.

4. Many rehabilitation projects are economically feasible only if low or lower interest rates are made available for the use of the particular project. The lack of authority to issue revenue bonds to provide low interest financing for such projects has adversely affected the economy of the City.

PURPOSE:

It is the declared legislative purpose to aid in the rehabilitation of existing structures and buildings in the City by making available the use of revenue bond financing to assist such projects.

Questions and Answers

The Candidates Take a Stand

Each candidate for city council received four questions concerning issues which are likely to face council during the next two years. The questions, prepared by News Review staff member Alexander Barnes with the assistance of the editorial board, were particularly designed to allow candidates to express their divergent views. The answers, which follow, with one exception are arranged in the order candidates' names will appear on the September 18 ballot: Charles Schwan, Gil Weidenfeld, Richard Ley, Konrad Herling, Thomas X. White, Richard Pilski, Richard Castaldi and Jeanette Gordy. Gordy and Ley chose to respond jointly, thus their answers appear only once under each question.

1(a) Do you favor the construction of a pedestrian/bicycle overpass between "old" Greenbelt and Greenbriar? (35 words)

Schwan - Yes. There is no safe pedestrian/bicycle access to and from Roosevelt High School and Greenbriar and "old" Greenbelt. This the overpass would provide.

Weidenfeld - Presently the pedestrian access for students between "old" Greenbelt and Greenbriar consists of a dangerous legal route along Greenbelt Road or a hazardous illegal route across the Parkway. Therefore, I support a safe route - an overpass.

Gordy-Ley - Legal counsel advises us that, as owners in Greenbriar Phase I and therefore respondents in the condemnation proceedings, we should not comment in any way on the overpass question.

Herling - I support constructing an overpass. It is entirely consistent with the principles of our planned community which have provided walkways and underpasses, hence, safe passage throughout the city without having to confront vehicular traffic.

White - Yes! I strongly favor this overpass proposal and consider it extremely valuable from not only the safety viewpoint, but for improved transportation and communication between segments of the city.

Pilski - Overpasses to Greenbriar, Springhill Lake, and the Golden Triangle have had my support my 14 years on council. The Metro station will make overpasses more important. Yes.

Castaldi - Yes. The size of our community mandates a link to provide service to all citizens. I have strongly supported overpasses as a commitment for the safety and convenience of all residents of Greenbelt.

1(b). If a majority of voters approve such an overpass, at which location will you support its construction? (35 words)

Schwan - Gardenway. It is more direct, more likely to be used and safer. Its selection is favored by the Roosevelt High School PTSA and students and is the only one approved by the Federal Highway Administration.

Weidenfeld - I support the Gardenway location because it is the most direct route between original Greenbelt and the high school. Then there would be no reason for students to take an alternative dangerous route.

Gordy-Ley - Legal counsel advises us that, as owners in Greenbriar Phase I and therefore respondents in the condemnation proceedings, we should not comment in any way on the overpass question.

Herling - Common sense would dictate that it be placed at Gardenway. Roosevelt students indicated that Gardenway was preferred to Mandan. Additionally, the Federal Highway Administration has pledged its financial support to construct at Gardenway, not Mandan.

White - I support the location of the overpass at the Gardenway Road area.

Pilski - I would support the overpass at the location approved by the voters.

Castaldi - The council has approved the Gardenway site. However, if the majority of voters support a different site location, I will support any action or motion for reconsideration, and request a public hearing on the matter.

1(c). Will you feel bound by the results of the advisory question on this issue? (25 words)

Schwan - Yes, not to do so would defeat the purpose of the advisory question.

Weidenfeld - I feel responsible to maximize safety by supporting Gardenway. I am confident voters will agree. I would reconsider if so instructed by the advisory question.

Gordy-Ley - Legal counsel advises us that, as owners in Greenbriar Phase I and therefore respondents in the condemnation proceedings, we should not comment in any way on the overpass question.

Herling - If the vote favored a Mandan overpass I would urge council to renegotiate with the Federal Highway Administration to build the overpass at that point.

White - I will be influenced by the voters location preference. I will continue to work for a safe and convenient pedestrian crossing of the B-W Parkway.

Pilski - Yes.

Castaldi - An advisory question is not legally binding on the city council; however, I personally would feel morally bound to consider the advisory question results.

2. Do you favor the amendment to the city charter to provide revenue bonds for low-cost financing for rehabilitation of existing city structures? (50 words)

Schwan - Yes. Blight, unless attended to, spreads. It affects adversely nearby areas not blighted. Issuance of revenue bonds by the city would make possible a borrower's financing rehabilitation at a more nearly reasonable cost, and at no obligation to the city. Payment would be by those receiving bonds.

Weidenfeld - Greenbelt has several areas that presently need rehabilitation and/or energy conservation; such as the commercial center, GHI and the Center apartments. Without rehabilitation, eventually a blight could set in that would adversely affect all our residences and the city's bond rating. Greenbelt needs and I would support the charter amendment.

Gordy-Ley - If the revenue bond charter amendment passes, city council could approve issuance of revenue bonds without further voter approval. We disapprove of this blank check being given to the city council. Bond referenda should be for specific issuances and their purpose clearly stated so that public preferences can be clearly determined.

Herling - Yes. This will allow GHI homes to be improved, which also improves the value of detached homes, and gives flexibility to council to meet future problems in other areas of the city. I view it as a long-term investment that is essential to effective operation of the city.

White - Yes! Very much so.

Pilski - Revenue bonds can provide a method for city improvements and expansion. Rehabilitation of existing city structures is one part of revenue bond financing. Programs will be asked for and reviewed. Each must be judged on their benefits to the city. Yes.

Castaldi - Yes, I support this mechanism whereby low cost interest dollars are obtained to rehabilitate city structures. My duty is to provide reasonable tools that will enable homeowners, businessmen and citizens the most economical means to maintain sound, healthy structures. This will be accomplished by providing city revenue bonds for low cost financing.

3. Would you approve an increase in the budget to offset inflation to maintain the current level of services? (50 words)

Schwan - Yes, but I regard such an eventuality as unlikely. All indications are that the city's tax base will grow from new development at a pace sufficient to maintain the current level of services, or even raise the level, at a lower tax rate than we have now.

Weidenfeld - I do support maintaining the level of city services even if an increase in the city budget were required. However, with a significant increase in the commercial tax base expected over the next few years, our taxes probably will not need to be increased and very probably will be lowered.

Gordy-Ley - The proposed 1979/80 budget is $2,534,600. Over the past two years, the city budget has outpaced the inflation rate. With sound fiscal policy and monetary restraint, the city can provide needed services while keeping the budget at or below the inflation rate.

Herling - Council should evaluate all services to determine whether or not they could be performed more economically. However, if an increased budget was the only way to maintain the current level of services I would support an increase. This could be funded by increased tax revenue derived from the expanding private sector.

White - Depends on the service. Generally, yes. The budget submitted to council by the city manager contains projected amounts that reflect increases due to inflation. I scrutinize the manager's budget and evaluate line items on the basis of need; whether services can be reduced; or whether services should be added or increased.

Pilski - Twenty years of experience of city budgets have taught me that Greenbelt's budgets have been determined by citizens' input. Program additions and cutbacks are determined by budget hearings. My reputation as a careful scrutinizer of city budgets determines my decision on the budget, one year at a time.

Castaldi - Every budget adjustment deserves individual consideration. This policy is demonstrated through the city's budgetary process whereby all city services are publicly reviewed and scrutinized. It has been my experience that citizens will generally support nominal increases to maintain funding of essential services and programs.

4. What other major issues do you see developing over the next two years? What approach would you take in dealing with them? (75 words)

Schwan - Overshadowing all other possible issues are those that will arise from private and public development, particularly the latter. The horrendous proposals of the State Highway Administration would require taking of land from Greenbriar, Greenway Center, the Lutheran Church, the Lake Park, Parcel 15 (near the lake) and two sides of the Golden Triangle, including most of the city's Indian Springs parkland. They must be resisted. Decidedly, this would be my approach.

Weidenfeld - A serious issue facing Greenbelt is a proposal by the State Highway Administration to unmercifully cut up our city with road modifications. The city council must meet with state highway officials and show them that their proposed road modifications will have severe adverse impacts on Greenbelt. If this approach doesn't change their minds, the council must rally our citizens and our county and state elected officials to oppose any more cutting up of Greenbelt.

Gordy-Ley - We believe in and will work for: a. Preservation of existing green spaces, b. Development of additional parks and recreation facilities, c. Increased police protection in the face of rapid growth, d. A greater voice for citizens in Greenbelt's development, e. An end to the plans to make Greenbelt a series of on-and-off ramps for major highways, f. Maintenance of high levels of services and reasonable tax rates through cost-effective budget planning, and g. Joining together for a safer, more beautiful greater community.

Herling - 1. Development of intra-city transportation, solar energy and recycling. 2. Constructive use of the former theatre in Greenbelt Center as a cultural center run and operated by Greenbelters. 3. Ascertain feasibility of Springhill Lake/Old Greenbelt pedestrian/bicycle overpass, imperative for future Metro station in SHL; will also make it easier for SHL residents to reach facilities in Old Greenbelt. 4. Deal more effectively with State Highway Administration which appears to be responsive only to its own whim.

White - Transportation Improvements - I want the city to oppose strongly the proposed Maryland Department of Transportation highway projects. I would urge changes that provide less reliance on the single driver auto, more encouragement of pedestrian, bicycle, and mass transportation facilities. (2) Zoning - The sectional map amendment process in our planning area can have a desirable impact on Greenbelt's future. I would work diligently to assure that densities and development patterns are compatible with Greenbelt's original plan.

Pilski - State Highway Administration plans for ramp and highway changes are our major problems for the next two years. I've already objected to the future dismemberment of Greenbelt. Land Development in the Golden Triangle, parcels 1-2-15; and land adjoining Greenway Center are critical to city planning. Effective city promotion of undeveloped land adjacent to Greenbelt could make it an excellent annexation plan for the future. Metro must have a station in Greenbelt.

Castaldi - 1. Metro impact, 2. S.H.A. Highway proposals, 3. Impact of new commercial development, 4. Revitalization of commercial center, and 5. Police protection. To meet these new challenges, I will make strenuous, uncompromising efforts to protect Greenbelt from environmental abuse; enhance its fiscal position; promote compatible and harmonious land uses and traffic patterns; provide efficient access to commercial services and residential neighborhoods; assure the safety and welfare of its citizens; and to retain Greenbelt's identity as a unique residential community.

Charter Amendment Referendum on Revenue Bond Financing Summary Information

ON CHARTER AMENDMENT PROVISIONS

- Authorizes the City to borrow money to assist in the financing of rehabilitation projects by issuing revenue bonds.
- Ordinance must be adopted by the City Council to authorize the issuance of bonds.
- Bonds may be secured by a pledge of revenues from the project or any contracts, mortgages or other securities or from the proceeds of any insurance or from other appropriate security.
- Bonds may be issued for not more than forty years.
- Bond principal and interest is exempt from taxation.
- Bonds may be sold at public sale or by negotiation.
- Bonds are limited obligations of the City and tax monies are not obligated toward their repayment.
- Proceeds from bond sale may be placed in a trust fund with monies disbursed to qualifying borrowers as loans are approved.
- New bonds may be issued to refund outstanding bonds.

ON REVENUE BOND FINANCING

- The City Council unanimously adopted the charter amendment.
- The GHI Board of Directors requested the City to adopt a charter amendment.
- The amendment would enable the City to issue low interest rate revenue bonds to finance rehabilitation and energy conservation projects for homes and businesses throughout the City.
- Assisting in the rehabilitation and improvement of property is of benefit to all property within the City.
- If the amendment passes, revenue bonds can be issued only if approved by the City Council.
- Revenue bonds pledge specific revenues to the repayment of the loan. Tax monies are not obligated to the repayment.
- Revenue bonds are the least expensive loans available other than Federal or State subsidized loans.
- Loans are not imposed on anyone—the borrower must be willing.
- The approval of the charter amendment is not necessary for GHI to undertake its rehabilitation program but, if not approved, GHI members might have to pay more for rehabilitation.
- On the other hand, GHI might get a better loan from the Federal government.
- Property, such as the commercial center and the apartments around the center, might benefit from revenue bond low interest loans.
- All revenue bond loans must comply with Federal and State laws and regulations.

The complete charter amendment may be obtained at the City Clerk's Office, Municipal Building, 25 Crescent Road, during normal business hours.

Green Ridgers Share Surprise Party Fun

A surprise party to celebrate the 87th birthday of Besse Bendow was held in the Green Ridge House dining room, Saturday, August 25.

All residents of Green Ridge House were invited to attend the party, and most of them were as surprised as Mrs. Bendow to discover that it was a birthday party and not an "End of Summer get-together," as they had been led to believe. A drawing for several door prizes disguised that fact and thus helped to keep the secret from Mrs. Bendow.

Refreshments were served and an old-time songfest took place, with Kate Basinger and Mae Zoellner as lead singers and nearly all the guests joining in.

The Reverend Kenneth Buker, who shares the August 24 birthday with Mrs. Bendow, also received a rousing "Happy Birthday" along with everyone's good wishes. Reverend and Mrs. Buker's appearance there, by special invitation, was a particularly happy surprise for Mrs. Bendow. Many lovely gifts were given to her by those friends aware of her birthday. Approximately fifty-five residents attended as well as Mrs. Bendow's children and grandchildren, and an enjoyable time seemed to be had by all.

A Strong Voice on Council

CHALLENGES

I ask for your support so that I can continue serving the citizens of Greenbelt. Much remains to be done:

- I will work to find resources for additional acquisitions of green space
- I will work to reduce densities and control development through an update of the Greenbelt area master plan
- I will work to protect Greenbelt against devastating highway improvements — will urge pedestrian/biker/mass transit options to reduce air and noise pollution and to conserve energy
- I will work to assure a safe and convenient access and egress for the Springhill Lake Apartments.
- I will work to develop a Greenbelt area shuttle bus system
- I will work to retain postal services in the commercial center
- I will continue my efforts for a sound and prudent city budget

Greenbelt Homemakers

The Greenbelt Extension Homemakers will open their 1979-80 calendar year with a meeting on September 19 at 8 p.m. in the home of Fran Crisman. The program will be on "Pot Pourri", given by Fran Crisman.

The club has monthly educational programs and activities conducted by the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and supported by county, state and federal funds. It is open to all interested people who want to learn more about home economics and agriculture. Some of the programs coming up are: "The Now Look in Accessories", "Finish It New", "Will and Estate Planning" and "Making It Alone."

Also, once a month for those who like to do arts and crafts work, club members will be doing quilting, macrame, beaded trees, quilting and silk flowers.

For further information call 345-9032 or 474-4031.

Senior citizens interested in a trip to Frederick, Md., on Friday, Sept. 21 with lunch at the Dandee Restaurant, should call Travel Chairman Zelpha Parsons, 345-3904. A few reservations are available at this time. A bus will leave near the Suburban Trust Bank at 10:15 a.m. After lunch a scenic trip in the area is planned.

Council of Clubs Recreational Committee chairman Charlie Steeg has planned a trip going to North Wildwood, N.J., for September 10 to 14, and a good number of Greenbelt club members have signed up. They will be joined by members of other clubs in the county. This annual trip is so popular it has been sold out for weeks, with a standby list for late comers.

VOTE YES ON THE CHARTER AMENDMENTTuesday, September 18

by auth: GHI Board of Directors

Re-electTom White*A Strong Voice on Council*● LEADERSHIP FOR THE EIGHTIES

I will continue my efforts to exact very stringent environmental controls and conditions on new development. Reductions in density should be pursued through the sectional map zoning amendment process. I favor and give active support to rehabilitation programs to maintain existing structures. I will promote and encourage every opportunity for land acquisition for open space.

● TRANSPORTATION

Four years ago I said "if the State Highway Administration were left to its own devices, Greenbelt would be paved over." The voice of Greenbelt should be loud and clear — we will not tolerate further assaults on our health and well being. Instead of expressways, the state should implement needed improvements for bikeways, pedestrian access including overpasses, mass transportation projects, and support for local transportation needs to conserve energy.

● CITY BUDGET

As the city experiences growth during the next decade, the need for additional services will place increased pressures on our budget. Balance and perspective will be required to maintain fiscal integrity. During my six years on Council, I have established a record of sound budgeting; providing the resources necessary for essential programs and utilizing any available opportunity to obtain intergovernmental funding to meet our needs.

● GREENBELT - 1990

In 1987 Greenbelt will celebrate a golden anniversary — 50 years of an experiment in cooperation and community building. I think we should keep that milestone in mind. Greenbelt has enough problems and obstacles from outside, without our inflicting pain on one another. Let us continue to achieve, to decide, and to cooperate in what is best for our community. The preservation of the unique character of Greenbelt is a goal that can only be achieved through hard work and solidarity among Greenbelters.

FESTIVAL RACE RESULTS

by Alexander Barnes

Fifteen Greenbelters were led by Lee Aulisio in the 15 kilometers Festival Run. Peter Nye successfully defended his title by finishing first overall in a time of 49:50. Nye said he returned to Greenbelt for the past five years because it was a "beautiful course", characterizing the hill coming up Research Road "longer and tougher" than Boston's famed Heartbreak Hill. Nye's winning time this year, 49:50, was a minute slower than last year's even though he felt he was in better condition. The thirty-two year-old Nye attributed this to the increased humidity. The race was run in its typically hot and humid conditions: the temperature and humidity just prior to start time at National Airport were recorded as 85 degrees F. and 71%.

Aulisio finished third overall in a time of 52:58. He commented that it was a "rough course" and that it was "pretty humid".

Second Greenbelter, and fourth in the 19 and under category was Rafael Sela who finished in 58:57. Robert Baker finished late in the race in spite of intensive carbohydrate loading at the Redskins game.

Greenbelters were: 1 Aulisio, Lee, 52:58; 2 Sela, Rafael, 58:57; 3 Hartenstein, Ray, 63:19; 4 Sivta, Theodore, 65:13; 5 Sweeney, Paul, 67:30; 6 Bishop, Bill, 68:24; 7 Downs, Theresa, 69:41; 8 Mongelli, Robert, 70:38; 9 Farris, George, 71:08; 10 Oertel, Nelson, 71:25; 11 Morris, Ann, 79:26; 12 Coulter, Bruce, 79:40; 13 Ellerin, Albert, 89:22; 14 Baker, Robert, 98:37; 15 Farrell, Charles, 103:26.

Paul Rapavi, 22, led the pack of 82 runners to the finish in the 3 kilometer run around the lake in a good time of 9:55. Of the 20 Greenbelters who ran the 3 kilo, Neil Shiffman led the course in 12:38.

Greenbelters were: 1 Shiffman, Neil, 12:38; 2 Moore, Tim, 12:49;

Views of Police Dept. On Labor Day Festival

by John Kelly

"We are satisfied that the public behaved well," said Lt. John Kroh, commenting on this year's Labor Day Festival. A few fights and small amounts of narcotics were the only sources of trouble, he added.

Kroh noted that the No Beer Sales rule has helped control crowd behavior during the past four years. Prior to that, uncontrolled beer sales contributed to troublesome behavior.

Eight policemen on the 3-11 p.m. shift, and others working overtime, also helped make this festival a success, said Kroh.

SWIM TEAM NEWS

by Karen Jones

The Greenbelt swim team had a tremendous turnout at the Labor Day interdivisional novice meet. Earning ribbons were Liz Greig with three firsts, Jeanne Higgs (1st, 2nd, 3rd), Jennifer Dillon (1st, 4th), Susan Stauffer (1st, 3rd, 4th), Bill Gillet (3rd, 3rd, 4th), Jay McCusker (3rd, 5th), Tom Jones (4th, 6th, 6th), Kevin Meyers (4th, 8th), Pal Higgs (5th, 6th), Emily Sonneveld (6th), Cathy Moien (6th), Matthew Stauffer (7th), Tammy Meyers (7th, 7th), and Helen Webb (7th).

The annual banquet will be held on Friday, September 21, at 7:30 p.m. For more information call 345-3228.

Strike Up the Band!

by Linda Orenstein

Let the bugles blare, strike up the band! That is exactly what happened on September 3 when Greenbelt celebrated its 25th Annual Labor Day Parade. The first parade marchers reached the reviewing stand shortly after 10 a.m. The crowd, which had trickled into the area from all directions, had an air of expectancy about it, and a congenial mood prevailed.

Young bicyclists pedaled by on gaily decorated bicycles, clowns delighted young and old with their costumes and antics, and the Army and Navy bands lent a note of pomp to the event. Spectators were dazzled by the variety of colorful uniforms and were serenaded by the sounds of drums, kazoos and assorted instruments. The crowd enthusiastically applauded twirling majorettes, beautiful girls on painstakingly embellished floats, visiting politicians, and certainly not least, Greenbelt's own councilmen.

A familiar sight was the appearance of the blood-thirsty, wench-hungry spine-chilling Maryland Medieval Mercenary Militia. The historical, hysterical staged battle of these fierce warriors always stirs onlookers to laughter. Some parade entries never failed to be crowd pleasers. The tiny tots always bring a smile and an "ah" to everyone's lips; the appearance of the teen groups, nursery school children; cheerleaders; the Volunteer Fire Department and Police officials brings out the pride of Greenbelters in their city and in its special events.

The parade ended shortly before noon, and the contented onlookers drifted off slowly to the other scheduled activities. Another festival is over, but all those who missed the celebration can look forward to next year's 26th presentation. Greenbelt is not only getting older, it's getting better!

Vote for the Future Vote for Konrad Herling

Herling Supports:

1. The federally approved Gardenway Overpass providing safe access for our students to Eleanor Roosevelt High School.
2. Safe entrances onto Edmonston Road from Greenbelt Road; onto Kenilworth Avenue out of Springhill Lake.
3. An intra-city bus system serving Springhill Lake, Greenbelt Proper and Greenbelt East (Greenbriar, Windsor Green, and Glen Oaks).
4. A community-run cultural center featuring concerts, plays, art and architectural exhibits, speakers' series and a subscription series.
5. A commitment to the expanded use of solar energy and recycling.

TOWARD A GREATER COMMUNITY

- Preservation of existing green spaces.
- Development of additional parks and recreation facilities.
- Increased police protection in the face of rapid growth.
- Joining together for a safer, more beautiful, greater Greenbelt community.
- Maintenance of high levels of services and reasonable tax rates through cost-effective budget planning.
- An end to the plans to make Greenbelt a series of on-and-off ramps for major highways.
- A greater voice for the citizens in the development of Greenbelt.

'Coming together is a beginning.
Keeping together is progress.
Working together is success.'

RICHARD CASTALDI

RE-ELECT

for

"Unity Through Community Participation"

Richard is a lifetime resident of Greenbelt and has served his community by being responsive to citizen and community needs. He has worked hard for developing and planning the Green Ridge House for senior and physically handicapped citizens.

To more adequately address the ever increasing crime problem and deter the rate of increase within the city, Richard supports additional manpower allocations and the rescheduling of patrols to coincide with criminal activity. He has been a strong supporter of bikeways, parkland acquisition, and development for the City.

The current highway proposals are of real concern to Greenbelt, with new major changes affecting both residential and commercial projects. Richard's position as 1979-1980 Chairman of the National Regional Transportation Planning Board will guarantee that Greenbelt's views are given proper consideration.

Richard has seventeen (17) years of Zoning and Planning experience and is an active member of the Council of Governments, with six (6) years on the Transportation Planning Board and Human Resource Policy Board. He was elected outstanding young American in 1977 by the National Jaycees of America, and was Greenbelt's 1978-1979 State Director.

As Councilman, Richard will continue to use good financial judgment in implementing programs of service for the City.

Because we CARE about Greenbelt, and we want Greenbelt to continue to be a great community, and we know Richard Castaldi CARES about Greenbelt - we urge you to join us in voting for Richard Castaldi by pulling lever 8-A on Election Day

Mrs. Tahmineh Irani Parsons, an Iranian of Zoroastrian background will speak on the writings of Zoroaster, and Dr. Devi Vembu, an East Indian of Hindu heritage will speak about the Hindu scriptures.

The public is cordially invited to attend. For more information call 474-6779 or 474-4090.

TM LECTURE

A free public lecture on Transcendental Meditation (TM) will be given Tues., Sept. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Greenbelt Library.

The lecture will be given by Pauline and Mark Stickels, two Greenbelt residents and TM teachers. The topic, "Health and the Aging Process," will cover new research indicating a reversal in the aging process. The lecture should be of special interest to senior citizens, but all are invited to attend.

TM mediators are also invited to hear more about the latest developments in the International Organization and Greenbelt's free TM follow-up program. For more information call Mark or Pauline at 441-9398.

E. Roosevelt PTSA

Eleanor Roosevelt High School will hold Back to School Night on Tuesday, September 18 at 8 p.m.

After a short meeting in the auditorium, parents will follow students' schedules, visiting classroom and meeting the teachers.

What they say about

Charles F. Schwan, Jr.

People have been working for Senior Citizen Housing in Greenbelt, since 1960, when Greenbelt Homes Inc first developed plans for 56 senior cottages on Hamilton Place. Charlie Schwan chaired the GHI Elderly Housing Committee then. And ever since then he has been a leading advocate and tireless worker in the cause.

Charlie is a real leader, willing to support and work for the right things, long before they become the popular things.

Anthony Madden
Robert Dove
Jim Cassels

Charlie's accurate perception of school issues has both helped us keep Greenbelt's elementary schools open and has helped develop the best senior high school in the county — Eleanor Roosevelt. He has been an articulate spokesman and enthusiastic worker for quality education for our children.

Kathrine Gough, member, Greenbelt School Study Committee

By authority: Darwin S. Beck, Treasurer

GHI Advisory Committee

The GHI Board has approved the creation of an Advisory Committee for Corporate Policies and Procedures. The ACCPP's job is to investigate whether the GHI Board and Management maintain consistent policies in dealings with members and employees and whether adequate direction is provided to employees in carrying out their work. Members appointed to the committee include Steve Polaschik as chairman; Nat Shinderman; Cathie Meertre; Ben Rosenzweig and Jim Foster, who will serve as liaison between the committee and the board.

The committee will begin its work by meeting with employees to ascertain urgent problem areas that need attention by management. The committee's goal is to make a thorough survey and to offer recommendations about such areas as lines of authority, placement of responsibilities, and procedures to assure quality services to members. The board and management place a high value on the members' input to the committee to improve GHI operations. Accordingly, the committee is anxious to have comments from the membership regarding any of the areas in the purview of this committee as indicated above.

In addition to the comments, it would be helpful if members would give positive recommendations on what improvements can be made which would relate to strengthening relations between the board, management, employees and members, and would improve ways by which things get done in GHI. Written comments should be addressed to the committee chairman at 12-D Ridge Road, Greenbelt, Md. 20770. However, if members or employees wish to give any recommendations orally, they can call Cathie Meetre, 474-0490. This committee member has been designated by the committee to receive calls and confidentiality will be kept, if requested by the person calling. As a courtesy, since this is a private residence phone, please do not call after 9:30 p.m. or use this number as a means to get routine maintenance.

The committee plans to issue its report by areas of priority, in a timely manner, rather than waiting until all work is completed for a final report. Early input by members will be appreciated.

Police Blotter

Four of the department's new officers have completed their 410 hours of entrance level training at the Maryland Transportation Authority Police Academy. The officers scored in the upper part of their class. Chief Lane presented Officer Gregory E. Lynn with the top shooter's award. Lynn had a perfect score on the pistol range. Officers completing the course are: Lynn, Terrence M. McGrath, James D. Love and David R. Kress.

UM Volunteer Corps Seeks Retirees as Counselors

The University of Maryland's Retired Volunteer Service Corps is actively recruiting retired professionals to counsel undergraduate students on their academic and professional careers. Those especially in demand are former professionals with backgrounds in engineering, economics, accounting or social science research and analysis.

To recruit retirees from these fields, the corps is offering $500 honorariums to a limited number of qualified candidates willing to volunteer twelve to fifteen hours of service a week this fall semester. All volunteers in the corps are reimbursed for travel and parking expenses.

For further information, call Renee Lewis at 454-2453, or write to the Retired Volunteer Service Corps, 3155 Undergraduate Library, University of Maryland, College Park, Md. 20742.

CHARTER AMENDMENT REFERENDUM QUESTION

ADVISORY REFERENDUM QUESTION

SPECIMEN BALLOT

[illegible]

DIRECTIONS FOR VOTING

1. To Close Curtains—Move large red handled lever to right until bell rings and curtains close. Do not touch this handle again until you are ready to leave.
2. For Council — Turn down lever over the name of candidate you wish to vote for. You can vote for only five candidates. Leave the levers down.
3. Write In: You may vote for someone not on the ballot by raising the slide door designated for Write-In Candidates and writing the name or names on the paper tape exposed. Do not write in the name of a candidate on the ballot. Once a Write-In slot is opened you cannot vote for a listed candidate in the same contest.
4. Questions: Turn down lever next to the question, marking your choice. Leave lever down.
5. Corrections: If you wish to change a vote after you have turned a lever down, simply move the lever back to its original position and turn down over your new selection.
6. Record Vote: Upon making all selections, move large handled lever to left as far as it will go. Your vote will be registered, all levers will return to their original position, and the curtains will open.
7. Remember: Once the red handled lever is removed to left, your vote is cast and you can no longer make any changes in your vote.
